Investment Supermarket

As the pandemic reshaped working patterns in businesses all over the world, Investment Supermarket approached Cobus to reimagine their workplace to reflect this new future.

Our design team identified a need for more flexible and collaborative zones, introducing 4–6 person pods with acoustic privacy, informal meeting areas, and private booths for focused group work. Additional breakout spaces and a new kitchen were incorporated across multiple floors to encourage connectivity and interaction during breaks.

Inspired by Apple's Genius Bar, we also created a dedicated technical support hub. Finished in bold orange to stand apart from the main workspace, this vibrant area features advanced technology, enabling IT professionals to efficiently service employee laptops and equipment.

Wellbeing was central to the refurbishment. Reflecting the organisation's diverse culture, new spaces included a prayer room and a dedicated mental health area to support both personal and professional needs.
